Tito Featured In Major Soviet Struggle Role

Yetter Defends Recovery Work

REP. VAN D. Yetter (D-Monroe), candidate for re-election, defended the progress that has been made in flood rehabilitation in an address at the Women's Democratic Club meeting in Barrett Township last night.

His talk was in reply to a charge leveled by his Republican opponent, H. L. Cleveland, that the state administration had failed to live up to promises of post-flood reconstruction.

"I see by the papers that nothing has been done to restore flood damage," Yetter said. "I don't think they (Republicans) can deceive the people of Monroe County, because all one must do is ride around in either town and up along the creeks and see the new roads and streets that have been built and without cost to the local taxpayers.

Van D. Yetter

"This work along with the new bridges that are being built are being paid for out of a special relief fund which was created by legislation that was sponsored by me," Yetter told the club.

"Perhaps some people's memories are short. If so, let me remind them that the temporary bridges were built in a few days' time and they were built substantial so as to give the highway department time to design new and better bridges so there would be no recurrence of bridges washing out. . .

"It would be silly to build a new bridge between the twp towns across Brodheads Creek before the plans are completed for the flood control project that is being designed, which by the way is being designed to take care of more water than we had last Summer and will cost approximately three million dollars. The same thing holds true with the Main St. bridge across Pocono Creek."

Welfare measures that were approved at the recent session of the General Assembly were recalled by Rep. Yetter. These included benefits for the aged, sick, disabled, infirm and mentally ill, he said.

Another speaker at last night's meeting was Rep. Stephen McCann (D-Greene), chairman of the State House Education Committee. He told of measures passed by the last Legislature, mentioning specifically aid for mentally retarded school children, teachers' salary bill and school construction program.

More school legislation was passed by the 1955 session than in any combination of four previous sessions, McCann declared.

The Greene County legislator is here to address the 32nd annual Northeast District PSEA convention at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College today.

Nixon Defends Administration Labor Policy

WHEELING, W. Va., Sept. 28 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration's labor policies, and the Taft-Hartley law, were defended today by Vice President Nixon with the assertion that labor relations now "are the best they have been in our nation's history."

"If organized labor if wrecked today" as Taft-Hartley law opponents predicted it would be when the law was enacted, Nixon said, "it has managed to keep the fact secret."

Nixon stressed labor - management relations in speeches here tonight and in Cincinnati this afternoon. It was here four years ago that he was embraced by Gen. Eisenhower after publicly explaining an $18,000 expense fund given him by friends and supporters.

He said he chose Cincinnati for his first full-blown discussion of labor during his current 32-state campaign tour because it was the home of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, coauthor of the Taft-Hartley law.

Union Vote

"Despite the fact that certain union leaders have indicated their approval of our opponents," Nixon predicted, "a majority of union members, as well as other wage earners in the country will vote for President Eisenhower in 1956. They will do so because they know that, despite all the talk they have heard to the contrary, the actions of this administration have been good for labor."

It is the belief of the Eisenhower administration, he added, that labor, "coupled with progressive capital, is the motivating force behind our drive toward a greater America."

"No administration," he said, "must ever view labor as its special property, as something to manipulate and manage. Unfortunately, our opponents do regard labor in this selfish way. To them, labor is a private preserve for their private exploitation."

Nixon said he realized that the Taft-Hartley law was "not a perfect law" and "it needs amending, but it cannot be hurting too much, because certain union leaders apparently prefer to keep it as a political issue rather than secure passage of amendments they favor."

Since the law's enactment in 1947, he said, union membership has risen from 15 to 18 million and "privately, labor leaders concede that they never had it so good."

Costello Retains Citizenship

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP)—The Justice Department's five-year campaign to strip American citizenship from racketeer Frank Costello collapsed today. A federal judge threw the case out of court, with harsh words for the government's conduct.

Costello owed his victory to the inquisitive judge, a retentive-minded president of a small Ohio college and a former big city detective.

These three men established that the denaturalization case against Costello was based on wiretapped evidence—in fact the judge said Costello has been the target of federal wiretappers for more than 30 years, including the period when he was a star witness before Senate crime probers.

The judge, Edmund L. Palmieri, ruled that such evidence is inadmissable in federal court and dismissed the denaturalization proceedings. The government said it will appeal the decision.

New Start

If it loses its appeal, the government will have to start all over again if it still wants Costello deported. Last spring Costello offered to leave the country voluntarily to avoid a prison sentence for income tax evasion.

However, U.S. Atty. Paul W. Williams chose to put Costello in prison and then proceed with the deportation proceedings. The racketeer is serving a five-year term on the tax charge.

"This verdict makes me feel better," the ailing 65-year-old Costello said of Palmieri's dismissal of the case. "By the law of averages, I was bound to win this one."

Costello bore a charmed life for more than 30 years, as the government vainly tried to imprison him on various charges. But his luck ran out in 1951. Since then he has been in and out of federal prisons.

He claims he has a skin cancer and a heart condition and that his days are numbered. Nevertheless, at the opening of the denaturalization hearing yesterday Costello said, "I cherish my citizenship."

In dismissing the case, Palmieri said:

"The wiretapping was so extensive and of such a far-reaching nature that it is well nigh impossible for me to determine what may be admissable and untainted from that which is inadmissable and tainted."

Meanwhile, defense attorney Edward B. Williams said he may try to upset Costello's 1954 income tax evasion conviction on grounds that it, too, was based on wiretap evidence.

Costello came to this country from his native Italy as a boy. He became an American citizen in 1925. To do so, the government charged, he covered up his activities as a gun-toter.

Khrushchev Caught In Army Squeeze

LONDON, Sept. 28 (AP) — A new struggle for power inside the Soviet Union over de-Stalinization appeared emerging tonight, with Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito playing a key role.

Nikita S. Khrushchev, free-wheeling boss of the Soviet Communist party, was reported caught in a squeeze by Soviet army chiefs and a Stalinist bloc in the Politburo who see dangers for the Kremlin in his current policy.

The Yugoslav President shed his fear of air travel to fly to Russia's Black Sea resort area yesterday with Khrushchev, who had been his guest for a week on a visit billed as a strictly private vacation.

Press reports in Britain and in Austria said Khrushchev—sponsor of such things as the change Sept. 7 in the name of the Stalin peace prizes to Lenin prizes — may be in trouble.

Showdown

A showdown appeared developing with Khrushchev caught between reconciling his policy of de-Stalinization—the policy that befriended Tito—with warnings by Soviet army leaders of the military danger of creating a "neutral band" of Titoist nations around the Soviet Union.

The Soviet Foreign Ministry rejected requests of foreign correspondents in Moscow today for travel permits to the Black Sea coast, saying Tito's visit was of a "private nature."

This conflicted with dispatches out of Belgrade emphasizing the political importance of the trip. Vice President Alexander Rankovic and Djuro Puskar, a leader of the Yugoslav Communist Politburo from sensitive Bosnia, were in Tito's party.

The party was reported at Yalta with Khrushchev today.

And waiting on the Black Sea coast — officially on vacation — were Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov. They were at Sochi, less than an hour's flying time from Yalta.

Three Tractor-Trailers, Police Cruiser Involved In Mount Pocono Accident

MOUNT POCONO — A total $2,400 damage was caused last night when three tractor-trailers and a police cruiser were involved in an accident within the borough. Two truck drivers suffered minor injuries.

Borough Patrolman Kenneth Miller, 47, of Mount Pocono, had pulled over a trailer truck, operated by Charles A. Antkievicz, 28, of Scranton, State Police said.

As the officer was talking with the driver, two other tractor-trailers were coming down the hill on Route 611 toward Stroudsburg, troopers reported. One was operated by Stewart Williams, 46, of Bloomingdale, N.J., while the other was driven by John Williams, 32, of New York City.

Brakes Fail

John Williams told troopers the brakes failed on his truck, allowing it to crash into the rig of Stewart Williams, then to sideswipe the police car before finally crashing into the Antkievicz tractor.

Troopers Robert Latzo and John Kinsel investigated the mishap.

Vice President Of Korea Suffers Wound

SEOUL, Korea, Sept. 28 (AP) — Vice President Chang Myun, an outspoken critic of President Syngman Rhee, was wounded in the hand today by an assassin who fired two revolver shots as the vice president stepped from the stage at a political convention.

The convention was thrown into turmoil and tension gripped South Korea tonight as the public speculated upon the significance of the shooting and its possible consequences.

Chang, 56, was wounded by a jobless veteran of the Korean war as Chang started to leave the municipal theater after addressing his opposition Democratic party. The assassin, Kim Sang Poong, 28, was grabbed on the spot by angry delegates and beaten, but was rescued by police and held for questioning.

Distance

Witnesses said Poong fired the two shots at a distance of 6 to 10 feet with a medium calibre revolver, smashing several bones in Chang's left hand. After being treated at a hospital for bruises, police quoted him as saying Chang was "trying to fraternize with Japan, which is my enemy. I came to regard him as an enemy."

In a recent statement Chang said he thought it was time for Korea to establish diplomatic relations with Tokyo, and criticized Rhee, long embittered over Japanese occupation of Korea, for being "over-emotional toward Japan. Japan.

Archery Hunters To Track Deer

HARRISBURG, Sept. 28 (AP)—The state Game Commission today estimated some 20,000 archers will take to the woods next Monday in quest of deer for the special 19-day bow-and-arrow hunting season.

The season, limited to antlered deer, winds up Oct. 19. In other years, the season was limited to two weeks. Hunting hours for the archers are between 6 a.m. and 5:30 p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Record Number Of Voters

HARRISBURG, Sept. 28 (AP)—All signs pointed today to a record number of eligible voters for the Nov. 6 general election.

An Associated Press survey of 55 out of Pennsylvania's 67 counties showed 2,449,000 Republicans and 2,223,000 Democrats registered prior to the Sept. 17 deadline.

Jury To Call Officer From Paris

SCRANTON, Sept. 28 (AP) —U.S. Atty. J. Julius Levy said today an Army officer will be summoned from his post in Paris to testify Oct. 16 before a federal grand jury looking into alleged irregularities in the construction of the huge Signal Corps depot at nearby Tobyhanna.

Lt. Col. Charles S. Tucker, a resident of South Sterling, was resident engineer for the Army Corps of Engineers while the depot was being built. He is now stationed with the American Battle Monuments Commission in Paris. The date of his appearance previously had been in doubt.

Witnesses

Three witnesses who worked on the Tobyhanna job were heard by the jury today. Two of them were identified as Frank Patrullo of Williamsport, who was employed by the engineering firm of Gilroy, O'Malley and Stopper, and Louis Caccesse, of Philadelphia, head of the construction divison of the Corps of Engineers. The third man was not identified but he was reported to have been a close associate of Col. Tucker in the work.

Harvey M. Matusow

Matusow Draws Term Of Five Years

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP)—Harvey M. Matusow was sentenced to five years in prison today for perjury on behalf of 13 second-string Communist leaders—his latest in a long series of big lies.

"Harvey Matusow is dead as far as I am concerned," the defendant told Federal Judge John F. X. McGohey who sentenced him. "He died a year or a year and a half ago. I took his body.

"Morally, I have to accept what is coming to me. I will never have to be ashamed of anything I do from this forward."

Conviction

A Federal Court jury on Wednesday convicted Matusow of five counts of perjury, carrying a maximum 25 years in prison. However, following court custom, McGohey gave Matusow five years on each count and then telescoped them into a single five year term by providing that they be served concurrently, rather than consecutively.

Matusow, an ex-Communist, emerged five years ago as an ace anti-Communist witness for the federal government in courtrooms and congressional hearings.

His testimony helped convict the 13 second string Reds in their 1952-53 trial. But he later recanted his testimony, and said he had been induced to lie by Roy M. Cohn, a federal prosecutor on the trial.

It was for this recantation and the charge against Cohn that Matusow was convicted earlier this week.

Adlai Believes U. S. Schools Facing 'Crisis'

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 28 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson said tonight that the "crisis" in the American school system presents "a very great danger for our country."

In a major radio-TV speech, Stevenson said tonight that "unless something drastic is done, there will be over a million new school age children each year whom we do not have classrooms for."

Stevenson was introduced by remote control by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt on the West Coast.

The Democratic presidential nominee said the educational situation "adds up to a crisis for our schools that presidents, in my judgment, a very great danger for our country."

Stevenson flew here with a prepared address after hitting at the Republican administration in a speech at Indianapolis in which he said the cost of living has reached an all-time high since Eisenhower has assumed the presidency and appears likely to go higher.

"Staggering"

Stevenson said the "most staggering" fact in the education picture is:

"If we want college - trained teachers for our children, one half of all our college graduates during the next 10 years will have to go into teaching.

"Well, they won't. And classes will get bigger and teaching standards lower."

Stevenson said Americans are worried when they hear the Soviet Union is producing twice as many engineers as this country is turning out.

But, he said, even if the Soviet Union should disappear the United States "would still have the problem of developing enough talents to man the posts of the new America and to help make the world a better place to live."

The Democratic nominee flew here from Indianapolis where he told massed thousands in the center of town that living costs have reached an all-time high since President Eisenhower took office.

"Your rent is likely to go up. Your car is almost sure to cost you more, and so are television sets, refrigerators, clothing and nearly everything else you buy," Stevenson said.

Easton Man Convicted

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28 (AP) — John M. Moyer, of Easton, Pa., a veteran of 32 years service with the Internal Revenue Service, was found guilty today of filing a 1951 fraudulent net worth statement.

Duff Eager To Assist Area

U. S. SEN. JAMES H. DUFF expressed an eagerness here Thursday to do something about protecting this area from future floods, it was revealed yesterday by B. K. Williams, Monroe County Republican chairman.

Williams accompanied Duff and H. L. Cleveland, candidate for assembly, on an hour's tour of sections hardest hit by the 1955 flood. They visited a number of places in Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg, Stokes Mill and Analomink, Williams said.

It was the first opportunity Duff had to get a first-hand view of the damaged areas since the senator flew over the Poconos region and Scranton in an Army plane the day after the flood hit here.

Inspection

He also inspected areas along the creek road, Route 290, as far as Canadensis and then went on to Honesdale for a GOP rally.

Williams said the senator showed a great interest in what is being done to bring about flood protection and recalled that he is in close contact with the surveys being made throughout the Delaware River Valley by the U. S. Corps of Engineers. Duff told Williams he plans to return later and offered to sit down with local leaders to iron out any problems where the federal government could be of assistance.

Duff announced earlier in the day that he would attempt to obtain non-interest bearing federal loans for flood rehabilitation work in this area.

"The people are urgently in need of financial aid," he said, mentioning specifically the proposed new sewage system in East Stroudsburg.

"They have asked me whether some federal agency might make them a loan of from $3,000,000 to $3,500,000 for such work.

"They are not asking for a handout, just a loan of the money without interest for probably five years. I will endeavor this weekend in Washington to learn whether this can be done."

January Tax Stamp Date Postponed

HARRISBURG, Sept. 28 (AP) — Atty. Gen. Herbert B. Cohen said today the Jan. 1 date to put into effect the stamp plan of collecting the state's 3 per cent sales tax will be put off indefinitely.

Cohen made the announcement after 12 firms asked the Dauphin County Court to throw out the stamp plan as unconstitutional.

The suit against the Commonwealth is answerable on Nov. 28, Cohen said, thereby forcing a postponement of the actual printing of the stamps.

Provision

The 1955-56 Legislature enacted the 3 per cent sales tax with a provision that the stamp plan go into effect Jan. 1 or "as soon thereafter as practicable."

Under the stamp plan the state, through banks would sell the stamps to retailers. They, in turn, provide the stamps to customers as evidence that the tax was paid.

The Leader administration opposed the stamp collection plan from the outset. Republicans insisted on it, however, on grounds that charitable organizations will benefit from a commission allowed in redeeming the used stamps.

Cohen said the Globe Ticket Co., Philadelphia, will be notified immediately to suspend the printing of 3 billion stamps ordered recently.

Cohen said the Nov. 28 return date for the suit will force the Commonwealth "to desist in engaging in any further activity toward the implementation of the stamp plan."

"This action affects only the contemplated use of stamps and in no way affects the collection of the sales tax," Cohen told a news conference.

"Collections will continue as before," Cohen added.

Farm Prices Decline

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP) — The Agriculture Department reported today that the general level of farm prices declined about a half a per cent between mid-August and mid-September.

Daylight Time Changes In Some Localities

HARRISBURG, Sept. 28 (AP) — Some Pennsylvanians may find it hard to tell the time of day after Saturday.

At 2 a.m. Sept. 30 at least 31 communities will revert to Eastern Standard Time but most municipalities will remain on Daylight Saving Time for another five weeks.

The experiment of extending daylight time until Oct. 28 was started in New England several years ago and spread into Pennsylvania last year when only about 15 communities went back to "slow" time in September.

An Associated Press survey showed that generally the large areas of population will remain on "fast" time until October.

Monroe County will stick to Daylight Time until October 28.

Duff Brands Clark As 'Left Wing'

HARRISBURG, Sept. 28 (AP)—U. S. Sen. James H. Duff said today that his Democratic opponent, Joseph S. Clark, "is one of the leaders in a powerful left-wing and underground activity that espouses a totalitarian concept of government wholly foreign to the American constitutional system."

Duff, Republican candidate for re-election, said the Americans for Democratic Action was the activity to which he referred. He said the ADA stands for American recognition of Communist China and for world government.

Duff, addressing a regional meeting of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women, said he personally opposes admission of Red China to the United Nations and opposes American recognition of that country. Clark, in a speech yesterday, joined Duff in that position.

Position

Turning to what he termed the ADA's position on a world government organization, Duff declared:

"In the proposed establishment of a world government the United States would be forced to give up part of its sovereignty.

It would become, along with other free nations, but a colony in a group of nations."

Duff said the ADA is also proposing to give the executive branch of government, powers to modify taxes and government expenditures.

Fruitless Freedom

Holloway, Roth Face New List Of Charges After Jail Break

THE TWO MEN who escaped from the Monroe County Jail Tuesday were being held in solitary confinement there last night.

Elmer James Holloway, 22, of Sciota, and Wilson Roth, 32, of Palmerton RD2, returned to the jail voluntarily late Thursday night after eluding authorities for 51 hours.

However, the decision to surrender came as both men realized that their armed pursuers were staying right on their trail, State Police reported last night.

All they got for their bold dash for freedom were a few hours in the chilly, windy atmosphere. They got little to eat. Their clothing and bodies were torn and scratched by brambles and briars. And the police kept coming.

But cold, hunger and exhaustion represent only a slight portion of their punishment. Now they face additional charges of prison breach, and are also expected to be booked on burglarly complaints.

Sgt. Frank D. Burtner, officer in charge of the Stroudsburg State Police Substation, interrogated the escapees at length yesterday.

Burtner said the pair "kept on the road" all of the time.

After dashing to freedom, Holloway and Roth went to the home of Holloway's mother in Sciota. There, they each picked up two sandwiches and some clothing, Burtner said. The sandwiches were to be the only real food the men were to get until they decided to give up Thursday night.

Burtner relterated that Troopers Steven Sabin and Donald Henzy barely missed nabbing the escapees at the Holloway home. As they approached the front door, the pair bolted into the fog and the wooded area behind the dwelling.

From there, Burtner stated, they worked their way along the old railroad bed to Saylor's Lake, then to Ross Common. They followed the Appalachian Trail from there to Smith's Gap.

"They were pretty tired by then," Burtner commented, after questioning them yesterday at the jail. "The police had been pushing them pretty hard and they were afraid we were getting too close for comfort."

The only food they had while they sought to elude their pursuers were quick snatches of huckleberries and wild grapes, Burtner said further.

They were mighty hungry by the time they reached the farm of Charles T. Green in Kunkletown, RD 2, about 11:10 Thursday night.

Green, who once employed Roth on his farm, fed the two men and then called Roth's brother, Ara E. Roth, Sr., and his nephew, Ara, Jr., both of Bath, RD 2.

There was a brief conversation and then Holloway and Roth decided to give themselves up. A short time later, they surrendered peacefully to Sheriff Jacob F. Altemose. They were accompanied by Green and Roth's brother and nephew.

Roth appeared to be glad it was over. Holloway had nothing to say.

Holloway, who was to go on trial in Monroe County Court Wednesday on robbery charges, was being led back to the cellblock Tuesday night after conversing with his attorney about his forthcoming trial.

As the cellblock doors were opened, Holloway grabbed the wrist of Deputy Sheriff Leonard Hippler and shouted to Roth to join him. Then both fled out of the side door and into the night.

During their brief period of freedom, police believe they broke into at least two homes and changed clothes at least twice.

Sheriff Altemose said yesterday that informations have already been sworn out against the men on prison breach complaints. A hearing is expected to be held Tuesday night before Justice of the Peace John C. Foelker.

THEY WON'T BE LATE!

Maybe they were slow in dressing . . . probably they dawdled a bit over breakfast . . . but if you know the gait of those little legs you can be sure they won't be late.

This is one of the fascinating paradoxes of youth. A child may have to be prodded to get to school on time—yet he doesn't want to be late!

And the paradox has implication for parents as they plan the religious education of their children. Jimmy may seem reluctant about his first trip to Church School . . . and Susan may shed a tear when Mother "leaves" her in the Beginners' Department. But wise parents never delay their youngsters' religious training. It is unfair to handicap a child with a late start in the vital process of moral and spiritual growth.

Inquire at the church of your choice, and bring your child to Church School as soon as he is of age.

And, remember, parents need religious training too! If you do not now attend Church regularly, start with Jimmy and Susan.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Jail-Breakers Surrender To Officials; Crime Does Not Pay Is Illustrated Anew

There are many crimes that seem—and are—senseless, but two at times stand out above all others in this respect.

One is kidnaping, the other is jail-breaking.

Even the taking of another person's life, if the act is not premeditated, can be understood as something that happened in the heat of passion and on the spur of the moment.

But how can anyone explain a crime like abduction where an innocent, helpless baby is snatched from the safety and care of its parents in the hope of obtaining a few filthy dollars?

Few kidnapers have ever collected ransom payments and been able to spend them. And lucky indeed is the child who escapes death after being kidnaped.

The odds are stacked so heavily against the kidnaper succeeding that it is almost suicidal to attempt this despicable crime; yet, we find some individuals with psychopathic minds who are foolish and heartless enough to try it.

A lesser crime, but in most cases just as senseless, is escaping from jail or prison. If successful, the prisoner becomes the object of a widespread search that places his own life in jeopardy and sometimes forces him to commit crimes far more serious than the one for which he had been imprisoned originally.

His own chances of avoiding capture and possibly death are slim, and he soon learns the folly of risking all for the one narrow avenue of escape.

Two prisoners who fled Monroe County Jail the other night surrendered early yesterday after discovering that being hunted down like a beast is far less desirable than cooling their heels in jail. They now face the prospect of additional prison terms — all because of a gamble that went wrong.

Crime, we are told by the FBI, is again on the increase after a one-year downturn. But as lawlessness rises, so does the number of arrests and convictions. Police agencies are becoming better-trained and equipped, methods of fighting crime are being improved and laws are being strengthened.

The public, which must pay the huge cost of crime, can help bring about another decline in lawlessness by being more alert to the problem facing the nation and cooperating with police and court officials in making crime unprofitable. It would help, of course, if the offenders would learn, too, that crime does not pay.

Adoption Of Additional Recommendations Of Hoover Commission Should Be Hastened

Monroe County is no less interested in economy of government than any other part of the country. So there is reason for us to join in cheering the news that economy advocates are planning an intensified drive in the next session of Congress for adoption of more of the Hoover Commission recommendations.

Purpose of the move is to lighten the burden on the American taxpayer and improve the efficiency of the government.

It is estimated that approximately 85 per cent of the Hoover Commission recommendations have been adopted thus far by Congress and the Executive Departments — for total potential savings of $532,600,000 annually.

But additional recommendations must be made effective to modernize federal operations, eliminate waste and duplication, and get the government out of dangerous competition with private business.

Such action will aid in cutting the costs of government operation—and thereby increase the chances for getting taxes reduced. A surplus of three or four billion dollars is essential, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey says, before he will be willing to consider tax cuts.

The platform adopted by the Republican National Convention contains a specific commitment that the party will support the commission proposals.

While not mentioning the Hoover Commission specifically, the Democratic platform pledges that the party will return the administration to a "sound, efficient and honest basis."

Action taken thus far involves 112 of the 314 recommendations made by the Hoover Commission—officially known as the Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government.

Many of the proposals called for administrative action only and, under the direction of the President, the various departments and agencies put them into effect. Congress has passed 30 pieces of legislation, thus providing legal basis for putting into effect 40 recommendations.

Cost of the commission has been a good investment for the taxpayer. Potential annual savings of $532,600,000 are already in sight. But the commission performed its task on a congressional appropriation of less than $2,800,000.

Thus it has paid for itself many fold, and adoption of additional proposals will increase the value of the investment.

George Sokolsky Says...

Every Candidate For High Office Should Give Opinion On Freeing Red-Held Captives

Both candidates for the Presidency might be asked a very simple question: What do you intend to do about Americans who are held prisoner in Red China? Maybe the candidates do not know how to answer the question. Maybe these Americans are doomed to rot and die. But there is no harm in asking the question. It might also be asked of every candidate for the United States Senate and every candidate for the House of Representatives.

The Montrose, California, "Ledger" tells of a mother who faced this as a very practical problem. She has a son who joined the Army of the United States of America but found himself working for the United Nations in Korea. He did not know that he was a United Nations soldier; he thought that he was an American soldier. He was mistaken in that. When he was taken captive by the Red Chinese, he discovered how tragically mistken he was—and still is.

His mother has been trying to discover where her son is. The Montrose "Ledger" says:

"The record shows that her son had been inducted into the Army —the United States Army— and had been given training as a machine gunner. He had been given an army—American Army —uniform, and paid his soldier's wages with American money. He had American officers and he went to Okinawa—an American base. Then he was transshipped to Korea."

Unfortunately from that time on, he ceased to be an American soldier and he became a United Nations soldier. His mother did not know that until she tried to discover what had happened to her son. First he was reported missing, then dead, and finally as a prisoner of the Red Chinese. So the soldier's mother wrote to the Army to ask what about it. It seems as though the Pentagon did not know and had no ideas, but they asked the State Department. Finally the mother did get a letter from Washington. As the aforesaid "Ledger" recites the story:

"She got plenty of sincere expressions of sympathy, but the 'responsibility' was laid at the feet of the Communist Chinese."

But her son never joined the Chinese Communists; he joined the Army of the United States and he assumed, as did his mother that he continued to belong to the United States and that he was the responsibility of the United States. However, that was only an assumption. He is now held by the Red Chinese as a pawn in a negotiation that has taken more than a year and he is still in prison. That negotiation over her son and other mothers' sons started immediately after the Conference, at the Summit at Geneva and has gone on and on ever since. But this American boy is stuck in Red China and there seems to be no way of getting him back to La Crescenta where his mother has a home for him.

Well, there is something to ask candidates about. It is more important than Ike's ileum; it is more important than whether Alger Hiss was a spy or only a red herring. It affects every household whose sons are to be called for military service or who are in the service now. Are those boys Americans or have they become denaturalized by the United Nations? That is the question to ask the candidates.

The candidates, of course, like to talk in broad generalities about the glories of peace, to which Isaiah and Confucius referred in passing. But what this California mother wants to know and we can all join her in asking is what would happen to an American boy who joined in an expedition against the Suez Canal. Would he be an American or a United Nations soldier and if the latter, where does he get off?

It used to be that Americans were never afraid of anything, particularly not of their government. But I notice that the Montrose "Ledger" does not give the mother's name. It only refers to her as a "La Crescenta mother." And it says that she has appealed to friends and neighbors to help her. The best way to help is to ask the candidates of both parties what they intend to do about Americans who are held prisoner years after wars ended and truce agreements were signed. Maybe somebody will answer in a campaign year.

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

The Suez Canal crisis goes before the United Nations, and getting ships through the Canal may seem a minor matter compared to getting reasonably fast action through the chambers and corridors of the world peace center. The big need is for competent pilots to steer diplomats through the tough spots. Russia and her pals can be depended on to plant all possible sandbars, rocks and submerged perils in the U. N. channels. Hollywood could well seek picture rights.

Grandpa would never have dreamt, even after a welsh-rarebit with cream ale, of a day when the Near East and the New York East Side would come together on the East River. . . that the world of Pharaohs and Ptolomys would one day have a tie-in with the world of Pa Knickerbocker, Sweet Rosie O'Grady and "The Sidewalks of New York."

. . . that the former section of teeming teniments, delicatessen stores, meat-packing houses and breweries would ever mark the spot where troubles of the people of Cairo, Thebes, Gizeh and Memphis would be aired. . . that there would be a great conference on Manhattan Island with the shadows of George Washington, Peter Stuyvesant, Fiorello LaGuardia, Al Smith, Steve Brodie, Jim Corbett, Corse Payton and Lillian Russel mingling in the background with Ptolemy, XIII, Cleopatra, King Cheops, Farouk, and Samia Gamal, the tummy dancer.

NEW DIVER

My New York

—by Mel Heimer

Jayne Mansfield

New York — The other night a farewell party was given in a West Side bistro called The Fireplace for an actress who, at least temporarily, has left Manhattan for the making of movies in Hollywood. In a half-dozen newspaper city rooms, editors paused briefly in their lives of quiet desperation to burn prayer papers of thanks to idols of wood and stone. The storm was over.

The actress is Jayne Mansfield, and I am not needling her—I like her—with my oblique remarks about how happy city editors are that she's gone. Most of them, though they never met her, have a sneaking, left-handed admiration for her, too. It's just that they never knew what to do with her.

Miss Jaynie, who had kicked around briefly in movies before then, burst on the New York scene a winter or two ago when she was cast in a Marilyn Monroe part in Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?, the George Axelrod play.

Jayne played M. M. to perfection and the drama critics gave her her due. There was a sneaking suspicion that this sort of thing was the only role that Jaynie could play, but no one carped about it. She was statuesque to behold, funny to listen to and she definitely bolstered an uneven play. Everyone was happy Miss Mansfield had come to call.

Shortly thereafter, however, the deluge began. Jayne either hired, was trapped by or was related to about six press agents. Each one, enthusiastic about his work, bombarded New York's editors, columnists and reporters with news of the dear child. It must have been the greatest publicity campaign in history, and I am not unmindful of the fascinating job that ol' Doris Lilly did a few years ago in behalf of the Pimm's Cup booze people.

At all theatrical and movie premieres, Jayne was there—although, frequently, after having swept into a lobby and posed for pictures, she had to duck out a side door to get to the Shubert theater on time for her own performances.

If a delicatessen opened in the Bronx, Jayne showed up and was photographed sitting on a stool with a sturgeon sandwich in hand. I am not kidding. I am not sure I can remember a cocktail party or scrabble session I attended in the past year in which Jayne didn't arrive sooner or later to say hello, everybody, and make that pretty, open wide, smile for the birdie.

For a while, editors freely published a complete pictorial record of the Mansfield jollities. The weather still was the item most often written about on Page One, but Jayne was a close second. No Arnold Toynbee, she still is sharp enough to know what makes a good publicity story and her quotes were much more entertaining and ingenious than poor Marilyn's. Flatly, with no holds barred, Jayne set out to make the top in a storm of press agentry. She did.

All this, however, reached a point where city editors were afraid to pick up their phones, lest another Mansfield p. a. would be there to inform him Jayne was opening a dog kennel in Brooklyn.

At least one editor, muffling his sobs, announced tiredly that there would be no more Mansfield publicity in his paper unless Jayne knifed someone. Others evidently felt the same way — but they were bolting the door after the heifer got away. Jayne had the battle won. She became a regular TV panelist, she got a Hollywood contract—and finally, off to the plywood spires and minarets of California she went. I am told that she arrived with her daughter, five dogs, a cat and her fiance, Mickey Hargitay. All but Mickey had on pink mink collars.

Try and Stop Me

The latest Thirteenth—and Centennial—Edition of "Bartlett's Familiar Quotations" is the best and biggest yet; 1068 pages, to be exact, with over 110,000 entries. Among the authors included for the first time are Douglas MacArthur, J. Frank Dobie, William Faulkner, Adlai E. Stevenson, and Dylan Thomas.

Most Indian dogs seem to have been of wolf or coyote stock.

John Bartlett didn't know what he was starting when, in 1855, he allowed himself to be persuaded to bring out in a 295-page book the collection of noteworthy quotations he had been amassing privately over the years. Cautiously he limited the first edition to 1000 copies, and sold most of them himself at his bookstore opposite the Harvard Yard.

Returned from a hitch in the Navy during the Civil War, Bartlett joined the publishing house of Little, Brown. By the time he died in 1905—at the age of eighty-five—his compendium had made not only his own fortune but those of Little and Brown as well.

Research Brings New Hope For Curing Eye Disorders

By Dr. Pearce Bailey

In the field of blindness, several major research accomplishments have brought new hope for the prevention, treatment, and even cure of some of the most baffling eye disorders.

During the past decade, retrolental fibroplasia has been the cause of total blindness in nearly 10,000 infants. Most of the cases are found among premature babies of less than three pounds at birth. Through a collaborative project in which 75 doctors in 18 hospitals participated, research confirmed the theory that oxygen, in the high concentrations given for indefinite periods of time to these prematures, was a minor sight killer. The final report now is being prepared for distribution to every hospital and medical institution in the nation.

The way has been cleared for the prevention of this disease.

Our scientists discovered a promising new method of treatment for a form of granulomatus uveitis. This hitherto incurable infection of the back of the eye, is responsible for 5 to 7 percent of all blindness in this country.

In the early acute phases of uveitis caused by a parasite, called toxoplasma, treatment with certain new drugs and with anti-inflammatory agents has resulted in the arresting of this disease and the restoration of useful vision. A new technique has also been developed and tested which offers a real possibility for the diagnosis of other forms of uveitis. This technique may prove to be a fundamental gain of great proportions.

In the problem of glaucoma investigators have found a new drug therapy that is effective in reducing the intraocular pressure which is a characteristic symptom of this disease. However, the drug is effective only in the control of acute glaucoma. So far, it has not been proven effective with prolonged treatment of chronic glaucoma.

Our research also shows that interference with the outflow of eye fluids plays a decisive role in the development of glaucoma. In eyes with this condition, the resistance to the outflow has been found to vary from time to time during the day.

The cause of cataract, which is a partial or complete opacity of the lens of the eye responsible for more than 20 percent of the blindness in this country, is another field of research of great interest to this Institute. Studies are being continued on the reaction of a new compound to determine whether the compound itself has any toxic side-effects.

Of the 15,000,000 people in the United States who are "hard of hearing" to some degree, 4,500,000 are seriously handicapped, and conservative estimates indicate that 760,000 are totally deaf. Only research into the mechanisms involved in normal hearing can provide the answers to many types of hearing impairment.

Already, certain investigations have provided advances in fundamental knowledge of the ear and hearing. The role of oxidation, the effect of carbon monoxide, etc., on the potentials of the middle ear are being studied to see what, if any, part they play in the hearing machanism.

In summary, the battle against neurological and sensory diseases and disorders has been accelerated. The government is providing increased support for the program. Significant gains have been found in some areas of study. But, relatively speaking, the job is just started.

Many of the essential facts pertaining to the brain, the spinal cord, and the central nervous system are still unknown. The facts already known need further clarification. The research program will require constant modification and reassessment. It will be difficult to foretell the areas of inquiry that will need special emphasis. But it now appears that investigations of cerebral palsy, mental retardation, and studies of the eye and ear can be exceptionally productive.

There is good reason to believe that answers to many of the unsolved problems will be provided and that it will not be too long before many of those tragic disorders can be scratched off the list of public health problems.

'Babe' Leaves Banner For Cancer Drive

By Jim Riley

A death occurred in Galveston, Texas, on Thursday, one that shook the entire world.

Although it was felt most in the sports world, we of the outside felt the stab in our hearts when Mildred "Babe" Didrikson Zaharias passed away.

Yes, the "Babe" finally found a foe she couldn't lick, one that snuffed out her life after 42 years—most of which were spent writing headlines.

The "Babe" will be remembered as the woman who could outdo most any man in virtually any form of athletics. In recent years she became the greatest golfer her sex has ever known. She was named the greatest woman athlete in history in a recent poll.

But, in this reporter's trend of thinking, "Babe" gave us much more than the records written on the field of sports. She gave us the first real hope in our fight against the dreaded powers of cancer. She didn't win the fight, but her iron shots were straight and true down to the 18th hole.

Cancer was first discovered on the body of the great "Babe" in 1953. Surgery was performed at that time and Mildred bounced back to win seven golf tournaments, which brought to 90 the number she has won down through the years.

The "Babe" played and won, despite the fear that would only naturally cling to her mind. She won not only golf tournaments, but the hearts of every human who read or heard about her comeback.

Mrs. Zaharias suffered a back injury late in 1953 while pushing a car stuck in the sand. Surgery was required to repair the damage. It was at this time that additional cancer was discovered and its alarming spread revealed.

Did the "Babe" go into a shell? Did she cry on the world's shoulder? Not this gal.

She brought hope to the world. Her actions spurred medical science to greater efforts, one of which may lead to the discovery of a cure for the dread disease.

"Babe" refused to quit, even though she shrank in size to 80 pounds. Her last words were spoken to her husband, George Zaharias, a former wrestler, and they were, "I ain't gonna die, honey."

On her deathbed, "Babe" gave the greatest slogan possible to the Cancer Association. This outstanding group should move quickly to adopt, "I ain't gonna die" as its banner. It should wave this banner on high forever more. The "Babe" was great while alive, but she can be even greater in death.

Her fight will live forever as a memorial and someday will be credited with instilling new life and spirit into those who suffer from cancer. The very manner in which she reacted to her uphill fight for the past three years may someday be the force behind saving a life.

Two great Babes have been cancer victims. First Ruth and now Zaharias. Tears were shed for both, but each gave cancer suffers plenty of hope.

These words will live forever—"I ain't gonna die."

On Broadway

—by Walter Winchell

The Hatfields and McCoys on Broadway

In the history of warfare not many soldiers have experienced the rigors of Broadway's warriors. Their feuds have been prolonged, intense and entertaining. They are always fun, of course, when you're not involved. . . Among the more vigorous battlers has been Tallulah Bankhead. She launched offensives against producers, playwrights, critics, newspapers and magazines. One dramatist once threatened to punch Talu; another (last season) slapped her in print. But she survives undaunted and unconquered.

Probably the most memorable of the Bankhead skirmishes was with playwright Lillian Hellman. The clawing was carried on in dailies and magazines. Finally, the star announced: "I'm tired of it all. I think she's a dreary bore as spinach is a dreary bore. I say she's spinach and the hellman with her." Miss Hellman shot back: "Hate from Miss Bankhead is a small badge of honor and praise undesirable. Miss Bankhead will never again act in a play of mine because I can only stand a certain amount of boredom."

Talu, however, had the last word: "She can't use that word against me. I called her a bore first." Moral: Miss Bankhead is a star—a shooting star.

Broadway friendships are generally motivated by professional expediency rather than genuine affection. It is sadly true that allies outnumber friends. Syndication makes friends and influences people . . . It naturally follows that such friendships are fragile relationships which are inevitably shattered. Result: Feuds . . . A harsh but realistic appraisal of friendship in general—and Broadway palship in particular — was once made by producer Jed Harris. His merciless observation has often been quoted here: "I love my enemies and hate my friends. Your enemies are steadfast, but with your friends you can't tell what the hell they want out of you."

House Of Delegates Approves Resolution To Work For Final Approval Of Subsidy Bill

HOUSE OF Delegates of the Northeast District, Pennsylvania State Education Association, approved a resolution last night to work "wholeheartedly" for final approval of the subsidy bill to pay the cost of the teachers' salary bill.

Both bills were approved by the last session of the State Legislature, but the subsidy measure was vetoed by Gov. George M. Leader. This threw the burden of paying the teachers' pay increase on the local school districts, the PSEA group pointed out in discussing the resolution.

The PSEA opened its 32nd annual district convention yesterday with a classroom teachers luncheon in the Penn-Stroud Hotel at noon. The House of Delegates held their dinner at the same place last night.

Later, the group convened at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College for their annual meeting. T. Stuart Williams, Luzerne, presided. Beryl Thomas, Kingston, was re-elected secretary for a two-year term.

The convention went on record to present the name of Harold Koch, of Hazleton, for president of the State Classrooms Teachers Association.

Classroom teachers elected as delegates to the NEA convention in Philadelphia next June 30-July 5 follow: Esther Saxe, Dallas Borough; Catherine O'Malley, Scranton; Mrs. Dorothy Grinnell, New Milford; Joseph Bartish, Wilkes-Barre, and Richard Marvin.

Administrators elected: Alfred Van Sickle, Lackawanna County; Robert Wilson, Waymart; Dr. Adma Dreher, Kings College, and Robert Hawke, Montour County.

General meeting of the convention will open at 9:30 a.m. today in the college auditorium. Lucy A. Valero, of California, state president of the PSEA, will bring greetings, as will Mrs. Kathryn W. Tyson, Jersey Shore, state president, Department of Classroom Teachers.

Carl T. Secor, East Stroudsburg supervising principal, and Earl F. Groner, Stroudsburg superintendent, will extend greetings from the local schools.

There will be three addresses: "The Forward Look in Education" by Franklin D. Coslett, Wilkes-Barre; "A Look at Educational Progress" by A. Clair Moser, PSEA associate secretary, and "Forward Education' by Rep. Stephen A. McCann, House Education Committee chairman.

Two East Stroudsburg State Teachers College Students Added To Monroe County YMCA Staff

John Foelker

Tom Williams

TWO NEW assignments on the Monroe County YMCA staff were made yesterday by Mrs. Inger Miller, program director.

Mrs. Miller revealed that Tom Williams, Allentown, and John Foelker, recently discharged from the Navy, have been added to the staff. Both are students at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

Experience

Williams has two and one-half years of experience in the Allentown YMCA, where he was a club leader and aquatic director. He also worked one year as physical education director of the Allentown Boys Club. His experience also includes two years at Camp Dent, where he was active in both the physical and religious programs. Williams plans to become a professional YMCA secretary after he has finished his education.

Foelker is taking over the boys and young men's aquatic program and will also be responsible for the men's volleyball and the junior and senior life saving courses.

Foelker worked the past Summer at Camp Weygadt, where he was the water front director. While in the Navy Foelker functioned as a physio-therapist. He also worked in the same department at Easton Hospital for several months.

Sunday School Continues 'Operation'

MEMBERS OF the Sunday School at the Berean Mennonite Brethren in Christ Church, 23 S. Sixth St., Stroudsburg, now are engaging in "Operation Big Push."

The purpose of the 11 week crusade is to build up church school attendance, Rev. Donald B. Schaeffer, pastor, explained last night.

And so far the campaign — now in its fourth week—has had very satisfactory results.

Mr. Schaeffer reported that, at the outset of the program, the church school had an average attendance of 74. The first week, 91 came out. There were 103 the second week. And 121 were counted last Sunday.

Contest

Mr. Schaeffer further pointed out that for the first six weeks the Sunday school is participating in a contest with the other 46 churches in the MBC Conference.

Then the local church school will participate in a Sunday school promotion contest sponsored by Christian Life Magazine.

On the local level, the competition is between individual members, the pastor explained. Points are awarded for inviting visitors, students enrolled, personal attendance and for carrying Bibles.

There will be a different emphasis each Sunday, such as Family Day, Neighbor Day, Rally Day, and Victory Day.

A station wagon, carrying a large display, has been used in the borough to invite people to the Sunday school.

Tax Snag To Affect Few

JUST A FEW flood victims are expected to be affected by a minor snag which appears to have been hit in the abatement of 1955 county taxes.

All told, some 436 flood sufferers will receive abatements on their 1955 levies.

However, reports came in yesterday that tax collectors are not accepting the county tax vouchers in cases where the mortgages are guaranteed by the Federal Government. In such cases, the mortgager pays part of his taxes with installments on his home.

Meeting

County Solicitor Leo A. Achterman said last night he has "heard" of the problem, and plans to meet sometime next week with borough and townships solicitors to work out a standard procedure.

Achterman indicated that the county will probably make a direct refund in cases where the home owner paid his taxes through some agency, along with his mortgage payments. In all other cases, the abatements will come in the tax warrant.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

When you start worrying about sitting on damp benches at football games and trotting around in damp shoes, you've passed another milestone on your way to old age and inactivity. The trouble is you're haunted by the example of what happened to the people your age who didn't worry about the weather.

Really, I've never heard such a rush of lumbago, sciatica, neuritis and sundry aches and pains, and most especially slipped discs—which are so common around here as to make you think they might be contagious. Fortunately most of its victims are on the mend.

It's only been within the last ten years that I even heard of discs slipping, though I suppose there weren't any fewer of them just because they weren't diagnosed as such. People probably just got "the miseries" and suffered.

Just giving something a name doesn't make it happen, though we're inclined to feel that it does. Never heard of a "panel discussion" for instance until 20 years ago, but what do you think those women sitting around the quilting frame before that were doing?

"Group Dynamics" is a term that came into use about five years ago, but the old Missionary Societies long ago had the idea that to get members really interested in some phase of the work, you put them to work sewing for orphans in Onduruman or preparing a program on lepers in Liberia.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

I am not a clubwoman except in a very restricted way. My activities are minor, and limited to the local chapter of Federated Business and Professional Women, which is now observing BPW Week on a national scale. But my contacts with clubwomen through the years have been numerous, thanks to my ten years as a social news editor, and always I have been proud of their organized strength, their high aspirations, their untiring stick-to-it-iveness, and their feminine shrewdness, which have resulted in giant-size achievements for the good of home . . . county . . . country . . . and the world at large. Husbands may grumble that "federation is a word meaning 'husbands eat out'" . . . reporters may frequently wish publicity chairmen would get out of their hair and admit that newspapers want other news than antitent caterpillar drives and Magazines for Friendship . . . children may frequently lament, "You're not going out AGAIN, are you, Mommie?" But by and large our civilization is sounder and safer, I am sure, because, as Mrs. Lynn Hunter, third vice president of the federation and Junior representative put it, women are "aiming at the stars."

We of Wyckoff's, were happy to be able to salute the 286 women representing 11 Pennsylvania counties, who gathered in Fall convocation Wednesday at the Penn Stroud Hotel. We are pleased that so many of the women dropped in during the day's intermissions to become acquainted with our state's Largest Small Town Department Store. I, as a Wyckoff employee, am proud to have had the privilege of addressing the conservation study group. I shall long remember that meeting for several reasons, other than the rather frantic one that the book Mrs. Knob had asked me to review was a scholarly, very comprehensive tome entitled "Topsoil and Civilization." It was far over my head and required several diligent readings, hours of study, and a sincerely heartfelt apology to the ladies that the result was not better. I shall always remember the meeting with a touch of sadness, for Mrs. Knob was suddenly called away by the death of Mr. James Quaresimo, a pleasant, friendly man, who had long been one of Stroudsburg's most respected merchants.

Perhaps my two most outstanding memories of the day concern the appearance of the state federation president, Mrs. Woodrow R. Mattern, and the inspirational talk, sparkling with humor, made by Salom Rizk, a Syrian-born citizen of the United States, whose appreciation for our country has been polished to permanent brilliance by the harsh steel wool of misery, suffering, and degradation endured as a boy in the Far East. My first impression of Mrs. Mattern was, "What a handsome woman. What a typical clubwoman—brilliant, capable, confident, with all the finer attributes of womanhood." Hers is such agelessness! I still do not know whether the softly waved hair under the pert black hat was white or blonde . . . but how fresh her skin was, how clear her eyes, how pleasant her voice! How much she represented that we women hope to find in our leaders.

As for Mr. Rizk — what a fabulous gift he has for stripping jaded eyes of their scales, and showing them again the wonders of life as it might be were ours truly "one world" under the law of God. Oh, he was laugh-provoking, with his good natured recital of his embarrassments created by our amazing English language. But back of his humor his eyes were still sad because of all he has seen of horror, filth, and suffering. It was disillusioning to find that here, in our own country, there are lesser forms of evil, just as degrading, that disillusion and seek to destroy the immigrant. Of Mr. Rizk, I could talk endlessly . . . but just this is enough: when he first attempted to fill out a form for entrance into an American school, he came to the word "Race." What was that? What did it mean? The dictionary had any number of definitions for races, race tracks, Negro race, Caucasian race, etc. Which was he? After careful study he found only one explanation which seemed to apply. Next to the baffling word he wrote, "Human." We all might do that . . . but we also might pause once in awhile to ask, "Are we worthy?"

Stroudsburg, Eastburg Highs Drop 1st Grid Games

Wargo Leads Blue Bombers To Win Over Mountaineers

TOM WARGO, known for his basketball prowess, proved last night that he's quite a gridman as he led Palmerton High to a 13-0 victory over Stroudsburg at Gordon Giffels field.

Operating from the quarterback slot, Wargo sparked a second half Palmerton drive that saw touchdowns go over in the third and fourth periods before 1,500 partisan Stroudsburg fans.

It just wasn't the Mountaineers night as the Blue Bombers completely dominated play from the opening gun to the final whistle.

The triumph was the third straight for the unbeaten Bombers who took over first place in the Lehigh Valley League with a 3-0 record. The setback was the first of the season for John Whitehead's boys who now own a 2-1 log.

Wargo, running the Palmerton attack like a general, he, Larry Silliman and Neal Roth piled up huge yardage almost at will.

With Wargo using a tight and split-Ts and a spread formation, Palmerton put the game on ice for all practical purposes in the third period when the Blue Bombers galloped 64 yards in 14 plays.

Sequence

Wargo, then Silliman and Roth and Wargo again was the sequence with Wargo going the final two on a quarterback sneak. The Palmerton signal-caller attempted a run on a fake conversion try, but a fumble ended the bid and Palmerton led 6-0 with two minutes remaining in the period.

Palmerton got its final points midway in the fourth canto when Wargo, Silliman and Roth collaborated for a 48 yards in 14 carries, with Roth going off his own right tackle the final three. Roth also made the extra and 13th point on another dash off tackle.

Only Got To 43

Stroudsburg's offense sputtered and stalled all night. The furtherest Whitehead's charges could penetrate was the visitors 43 yard line when Quarterback Dick Everitt hit Doug Shook with a pass, good for 14 yards and a first down, one of three they made all evening.

Defensively a few Mountaineers were keeping the Blue Bombers going to the outside. Center Larry Buzzard, a roving phenom made tacke after tackle of Palmerton backs slanting many times across the field to drag the runner down.

Doug Shook, a tower of strength during the first half when the Mountaineers kept the visitors in check, also got off some long punts that kept the John Young-coached crew away for a time from TD door. However, one of Doug's boots, which took a bad bounce and rolled 15 yards toward the Stroudsburg kicker setup the final Palmerton six-pointer.

On Defensive

Palmerton kept Stroudsburg on the defensive in the first half, playing most of the time in the Mountaineers territory.

In the early moments of the first quarter after Stroudsburg ran up a first down on its own 33, on a Phillips smash, Palmerton drove to three first downs to the Stroudsburg 25. The march started on their own 31 after a Shook boot rolled dead.

Quarterback Tom Wargo led the mostly overland march, sending his backs Larry Silliman and Neal Roth around the ends and from deep spread formations.

Once in a while Wargo kept the Mountaineer defense honest with a pass, but none of them connected in the first period.

Right after Stroudsburg was forced to give up the ball after a Shook punt was carried by Wargo from his own 32 to the 39, Palmerton was stopped momentarily.

Big Chance

Palmerton got a big opportunity midway in the second period when Charley Wentz intercepted a Ron Stopp pass on the Mountaineers 25 and got to the 23. Only a great tackle by intended receiver Shook kept the Wentz from going all the way.

The Blue Bombers, with Wargo, Roth and Silliman carrying, smashed to the 8 with a first and 10 situation. However, Shook, Buzzard, Wallace and Company and a great tackle by Ron Stopp, plus a back-in-motion penalty kept Palmerton where they started the 8. Here the Whiteheadmen took over.

At this point, Ron Stopp gave the crowd a slight thrill when he ran 16 yards to the 24, shaking off four Bombers on the way.

But this was the last S-burg bid as Stopp, on keeps, helped run out the clock before Wargo with a barrage of aerials, did.

ESSTC Blanks Ithaca, 13-0; Merring Scores 70-Yard TD

ITHACA, N. Y.—Sparked by Dick Merring's 70-yard touchdown jaunt, Eugene Martin's East Stroudsburg State Teachers College eleven blanked Ithaca College 13-0 before 2,000 fans here last night.

Merring's herculean gallop came in the third period and broke a 0-0 ball game to give the Warriors from Normal Hill their second straight win of the season.

Dick Bleam tallied the Martinmen's other six-pointer in the fourth period on a 10-yard run. Denny Roth converted after Bleam's score for the locals 13th marker.

Merring, the real workhorse of the Warriors attack last night, ran up more than 120 yards on the ground to pick up more than half of the 219 garnered by the Martinmen during the 60 minutes of play.

11 First Downs

The Warriors posted 11 first downs to the home team's 7. However in the passing department the Warriors had a rough night, failing to complete any out of 10 tries. Ithaca passed eight times and completed two for 36 yards.

Both teams felt each other out in the first quarter, with play keeping within the 30-yard lines of ESSTC and Ithaca.

But in the second quarter the Warriors began to show their over-all supremacy as Merring led a drive to the host team's 20 before a fumble in the STC backfield ended the bid.

49-Yd. March

Ithaca opened the second half with a 49-yard march as Earl Pettiman and Tom LaPlasa took turns lugging to the Stroudsburg 25. But the Warriors inner defense stiffened and warded out the one and only Ithaca threat.

Shortly after this bid, Martin's men took things into their own hands, shaking Merring loose off tackle, and the former East Stroudsburg High star cut to the sidelines and shot 70 yards into the end zone. A key block by Warrior end, Ed Adams, paved the way for Merring's picturesque run.

Keller Kick

Gary Keller's beautiful quick kick in the fourth quarter helped set up the Warriors final TD. The ball, which covered 59 yards, rolled dead on the Ithaca 29. Two plays later Pettiman fumbled and ESSTC recovered on the 35.

From here it was a matter of time as the short punt attack of Martin ate up yardage to the 10, from where Bleam went the final distance between end and tackle.

Roth split the uprights after this TD for the Warriors 13th.

The game ended a short time later when Don Carbone intercepted an Ithaca pass on his own 40.

The Warriors line stood out all night as it contained Ithaca's runners to 103 yards.

Braves Lose, Still Lead By Half Game

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 28 (AP)—Milwaukee's chance to take a commanding lead in the National League pennant battle was ruined tonight as the St. Louis Cardinals combined Ken Boyer's three-run double with some staunch relief pitching by Lindy McDaniel and Larry Jackson for a 5-4 triumph over the Braves.

The Braves still hold a one-half game lead over the defending champion Brooklyn Dodgers but they are all even in the vital games lost column.

Rain Halts Brooks Tilt

BROOKLYN, Sept. 28 (AP) — Rain and cold weather postponed the opener of Brooklyn's crucial wind-up three-game series with the Pittsburgh Pirates tonight. It was immediately re-scheduled as part of a doubleheader tomorrow afternoon.

The postponement was a disappointment to Dodger Manager Walt Alston, whose world champions need a sweep of the three games with the Bucs to hold any chance for the National League pennant.

To Hold Meeting

ANALOMINK—Members of the Analomink baseball team are urged to attend a business meeting here at the home of Melvin "Bub" Bush, club manager, tomorrow at 2 p.m.

All players are asked to turn in their uniforms prior to the meeting.

Rookie Foils Hoeft Bid

CLEVELAND, Sept. 28 (AP) — Rookie southpaw Hank Aguirre foiled Billy Hoeft's bid for a 20th victory tonight as the Cleveland Indians edged the Detroit Tigers, 2-1.

Aguirre allowed only four hits in winning his third against five losses, and the only run off him was unearned. He failed to touch first after taking a throw from Vic Wertz in the second inning Bill Tuttle, safe on the error, came around on a walk and a single by Bob Wilson.

A's Nip Chisox

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 28 (AP)—Hal Smith's home run in the eighth inning off Gerry Staley gave Kansas City a 6-5 edge over the Chicago White Sox today.

The A's chased starter Billy Pierce in the seventh when Gus Zernial hit a two-run pinch homer to tie the score at 5-5. Vic Power also had a first-inning homer off Pierce.

Mantle Belts 52nd Homer In 7-2 Yank Win

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP)—Don Larsen, bidding for a No. 2 starting job in next week's World Series, gave Boston just three singles tonight as the American League champion New York Yankees belted the Red Sox 7-2 with Mickey Mantle hitting his 52nd home run.

Larsen worked just seven innings in the misty cold, not allowing a hit for 5 1-3 frames.

Crowe's Pinmen To Roll Today

UNBEATEN Crowe's Insurance, pacesetters in the Delaware Valley Bowling League, will meet Pappy Central Lanes of Bethlehem today in a match on the Electric City lanes.

Crowe's, defending champions of the DVL, own an 8-0 log in the circuit.

Industrial Loop To Bowl Today

ALL MEMBERS of the Dunn's Tavern and Hughes Printing Company bowling teams of the Industrial League are to report to Harmon's Bowling Alleys at 12:15 p.m. today.

The other members of the league will report at 1 o'clock.

Giardello Winner

CLEVELAND, Sept. 28 (AP)—Joey Giardello of Philadelphia unleashed a savage right hand attack that knocked favored Bobby Boyd of Chicago senseless at 2:25 in the fifth round of their 10 round middleweight bout at the Arena tonight.

Bangor Upsets Cavaliers 19-[illegible] For 1st Win Of Year

BANGOR — Bangor Slatepickers upset the dope last evening by overpowering a previously undefeated East Stroudsburg High School eleven 19-6 here at Bangor's Memorial Park Field before some 2000 spectators who viewed the game throughout a continuous drizzle.

Bangor's offensive weapons were not dampened despite the rain as they pounded out their initial victory of the current campaign. Early in the contest, following a 42-yard jaunt, Bangor lost the services of its ace ball carrier, Glenn Heard, who suffered a possible fractured left shoulder. The injury occurred on the second play of scrimmage. Undaunted, the Maroon and White went on to roll up 173 net yards rushing on the mud-soaked gridiron to East Stroudsburg's 53 net yards rushing.

Bangor tallied first near the end of the first quarter after Ed Gordon fumbled twice attempting to punt. The last fumble was recovered by Bangor's Dale Miller on the East Stroudsburg 14 yard line. On the second play, later, J. L. Williams carried 13 yards to score as he kept the ball on an option series and sliced off his own right side into pay dirt. The extra point attempt on a plunge by Bobby Menhennit, Heard's substitute throughout the contest, was stopped short making the score Bangor 6 Eastburg 0.

Midway in the third quarter, Bangor registered its second tally. The Slaters' Frankie Butz covered a fumble by Charley Lupin on the East Stroudsburg 27 yard line. Williams got a first down to the 15. Then Ed Gordon intercepted Williams pass on the 4 yard line. Three plays later, Don Miller punted out to the Eastburg 37 and Williams returned the punt to the 27.

Bangor marched from there to score with Williams again scoring on the option play—this time slicing off his left side 6 yards. Bobby Finelli dashed around right end to score the extra point and make the count read Bangor 13, Eastburg 0.

Strouse Recovers

Later in the same quarter, Roger Strouse, Cavalier co-captain, recovered a fumble by Williams on the Bangor 26. Phil Simon, the Cavalier's shining offensive light of the evening, then dashed to the Bangor 6 on a reverse handoff from Lupin. However, here the hard-charging Bangor line stiffened and held off the Cavalier bid for a score throwing Lupin back to the 6 yard line after the Purple and White had reached the Bangor 2. After change of quarter Bangor failed to gain and were forced to punt.

Dick Wolslayer broke through to block Williams' punt and Ed Yakencheck made the recovery for the Cavaliers on the Bangor 1 yard line. Carl Smith plunged over on the next play from scrimmage of East Stroudsburg's only score. Lupin's attempted sneak for the extra point failed and the score stood early in the fourth quarter, Bangor 13 Eastburg 6.

Bangor Fired Up

Bangor seemed to take fire after East Stroudsburg scored and could not be denied another touchdown. With approximately two minutes left to play, big Maroon tackle, Charley Woolley set up the final score when he intercepted an attempted screen pass by Herman on the Eastburg 36 yard line and lumbered to the 20. Williams gained six yards to the 14 and then East Burg's Yakencheck was caught roughing Williams on an attempted pass and the Cavaliers were penalized to the 1 yard line. Williams, on the second try from scrimmage, sneaked over for his third tally of the evening. Finelli's attempted run around end for the extra point failed and the game ended two plays later with the Slaters on the long end of the score 19-6.

Outstanding

Bangor lineman, Bobby Butz was without a question the outstanding defensive star of the night. Time and again, he broke through the Cavalier defense to throw the ball carrier for losses. Woolley and Eugene Trigiani, diminutive guard, also played stellar roles in Bangor's amazing showing against the visiting Monroe Countians.

Offensively for Bangor, J. L. Williams was a scintillating star, as he took over much of the leather lugging usually assigned to the injured Heard.

Strouds, Lake Harmony Open PML Playoff Finals Tomorrow

THE STROUDS and Lake Harmony will open the first of their best-of-three series for the Pocono Mountain League playoff championship tomorrow at Saylorsburg, starting at 2 p.m.

The contest was originally slated for the Strouds home field at Gordon Giffels but was switched to Saylorsburg because of the football seating arrangement at the Stroudsburg ballyard.

Manager Frank Radler's nine, winners of the circuit's regular season crown, will probably start Bill Sommers on the hill with Russ Staples handling his slants.

Probable Hurlers

Lake Harmony will send Pete Labowsky to the mound and Jack Getz behind the plate. Lake Harmony finished the regular season in second place.

Both teams gained the finals by winning two straight in the semis. The Strouds knocked out Saylorsburg, while Lake Harmony eliminated Bushkill.

Next Oct. 7

The next tilt of the runoff set will be played at Lake Harmony Oct. 7, and the third, if necessary, will be played at Saylorsburg, Oct. 14.

Top '56 Race Tomorrow At Nazareth Oval

NAZARETH — The greatest stock car racing program in 1956 at the Nazareth Fairgrounds will be held this coming Sunday, 2 p.m. — with a challenging 100-lap feature event.

The 100-lapper — actually 50 miles of hard racing on a well manicured clay saucer — will attract the top modified and sportsman drivers in the East. The big magnet will be a large $2,000.00 purse, or the biggest payoff at Nazareth this year.

Cars from New York, New Jersey, Maryland and Pennsylvania will take part, and among the established hot shot chauffeurs are Otto Harwi, winner of two features on Sept. 23; Ralph Brown, White Plains, N. Y.; Les Farley, Califon, N. J., and Ralph Smith, Aberdeen, Md.

Early Warmup

The cars will take an early warmup prior to the start of the qualifying heats to enable the newcomers to get the feel of the oval, and to find their own particular groove. There will be many drivers on hand who had been big winners on tracks in other areas.

Marty Acker, Allentown, clocked at 27 seconds for a halfmile, will be among the dark horses. He led the first feature last week until he blew a tire on the 19th lap. Clyde Suydam, Washington, N. J., and Jack Bergstresser, Phillipsburg, N. J., injured in sensational crashes last Sunday, will be on hand for the 100-lapper.

Judge Assures Jury Series Time

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 28 (AP)—Maybe there'll be World Series games in Milwaukee next week and maybe there won't, but Circuit Judge Robert C. Cannon is taking no chances.

He issued these instructions to a jury that will start hearing a personal injury suit Monday: come to work at 7:30 a.m.; you'll be excused at 12:30 p.m.

The judge admitted he wasn't thinking exclusively of the Jurors' interest. He's a rabid fan, himself.

Red Sox Buy Hurler

BOSTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—The Boston Red Sox today announced the purchase of the contract of pitcher Bob Adubato, 6-8, righthander, from Albany of the Eastern League.

Testimonial Set For LL Bangor Boys

BANGOR — Arrangements for the annual testimonial to the entry in the Little League were made at a meeting of the First Ward Community Assn. held in the municipal building Thursday night.

The fete has been scheduled for Saturday evening, Oct. 27, at Christ Evangelical Lutheran Church, Stone Church. Open to the general public, a special ticket price has been designated for children 12 years of age and under. Tickets may be secured from Sherwood Holland and Willis Gardner. The latter, president, directed last night's session.

Morrell Grigg, director of athletics at Pottstown High School, will be the speaker. A Bangor native, where he starred in all sports, he also graduated from Perkiomen and Moravian College.

Other entertainment also is being planned. A turkey dinner will be served. Parents of Little League players will be invited to attend the next meeting of the association Oct. 18 when arrangements for the banquet will be completed.

In addition to Holland and Gardner, Blaine Holland, John Buzzard, Rex Erdman and Nelson Dawe comprise the committee in charge.

Lafayette Meets Owl Home Today

EASTON — Lafayette and Temple will resume football relations here today after a lapse of 11 years. It will be the fourth game of a series begun in 1929. Temple won the first three games.

While Steve Hokuf, Lafayette coach, was as a whole pleased with his team's 26-0 victory over Muhlenberg in the opening game last Saturday, he concentrated this week on ironing out some rough spots he noted.

Bozik To Return

Lafayette should be at full strength against the Owls. Joe Bozik, star quarterback from Donora, Pa., who was on the sidelines most of the Muhlenberg game because of a knee injury, is expected to start. Also set to start is Ray Dahms, big tackle from Roselle Park, N.J., who was kept out of action last Saturday by an injury. Al Adelmann, of Stroudsburg, will be at one of the ends.

Two possible backfield starters, according to Hokuf, are Jim Hourihan, Elizabeth, N.J., junior, and David Clauss, Phillipsburg, N. J., sophomore.

Eastburg JVs Face Bangor Away Monday

BANGOR — Practically the same lineup which kicked off against Catasauqua in last Monday's opener will get the call again next Monday afternoon when the Bangor High football reserves face the East Stroudsburg Jayvees on the Cavaliers gridiron at 4 o'clock.

With Louis Joella, a halfback, promoted to the varsity, Duane LaBar probably will be spotted in the secondary if a minor injury mends in time. George Repsher will be at quarter, Bruce Jones at the other half and either Bobby Williams or Tim East, tailback.

There will be changes at the ends, with Jim Finkbeiner and Ronald Mack starting. Francis Utsch and Dick Jackson will occupy the tackles; Gordon Repsher and Leroy Albert, the guards; and either Barry Gleim or Norman Black, center.

A majority of those named are freshmen. Coach Paul Wagner sees the team as stronger than a week ago but still not as organized as desired.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

For Saturday, Sept. 29, 1956

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—A lessening of stimulating vibrations but Venus' position still favors artistic matters, the home, personal and household affairs. Be agreeably helpful where you can; ejoy a hobby.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—Very favorable vibrations to end an interesting period. A practical, persistent course of action can lead to admirable gains. Don't forget to show your friendly, cheerful side.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—Some adverse indications call for strategic movements. Maintain an alert, constructive attitude. When chores are over, enjoy an artistic or literary pursuit, a wholesome hobby or sport.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Rays similar to Gemini. Your patience and tenacity in the face of problems is a real asset. Don't fret over irritating occurrences. Take them in stride and emphasize your innate good humor.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—Accent your ambitious and industrious nature now. Much happiness can be derived by lending a helping hand to those who need it. Avoid a tendency to criticize.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—Make use of your ability to recognize values in your business, shopping, with people. Set a goal and forge straight ahead.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Be on the lookout for opportunities. Like lightning they strike and seldom twice in the same place. When duties are completed, enjoy weekend activities worthy of your attention.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Some unfriendly indications. However, they need not stymie your efforts to come forward with a successful performance. Maintain a cheery demeanor for best results.

November 23 to December 21 (Sagittarius)—Think twice before accepting the advice of others if it is contrary to your instincts. Your intuitive nature is usually ace high. Do avoid brusqueness. Tact essential.

December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn)—Partake of regular Saturday routine with emphasis on family affairs, community interests, due recreational activities. Seek the companionship of worthy and cheerful people.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius)—Look out for schemes that promise an "above-average" return. You don't get anything for nothing.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces)—Determine objectives, whether business or recreational, then cooperate with friends and loved ones to attain maximum enjoyment for all. Day need not be hectic; it can be tranquil.

YOU BORN TODAY always look at things from both practical and artistic standpoints. You cheer other people's efforts; are willing to work hard and long, and you like the plaudits you receive. (Who doesn't?) You make efficient secretaries, able nurses, guardians, conscientious industrial workers. Don't let little things "get on your nerves." Your intuition and perception are excellent, but you must also listen to others, too, and take time in making judgments. You thrive under harmony, could do well in music, the theatre. Birthdate of: Baron Clive, founder of Brit. Indian empire; Horatio, Viscount Nelson, Brit. naval hero.

LISTEN!
I am a friendly house on Milford Road. I am really lonely and want folks and pets. In return I offer a warm welcome to a home conveniently located for shopping, schools, churches, and bus lines. I have six rooms, three of them are bedrooms, bath, garage and a lot 60'x150'. My morale is low because I do need some interior painting. However, my owner has reduced me to $8,500 and I can be financed if you have the down payment. Please call my agent.

'School Spirit' To Be Theme Of Assembly

NEWFOUNDLAND — "School Spirit" will be the general theme of a school assembly program planned by the Newfoundland Chapter of Future Farmers of America under the leadership of Clayton Northup.

The program, which will take place Oct. 26, is designed to give the facts on college placement and achievements, as well as careers, of Greene-Dreher-Sterling graduates. Donald Frick and Franklin Madden will plan and present the program.

Meeting in the school, members discussed projects and entertainments for the year. They voted to donate their labor in painting the fair building roof, in order to assist the Greene-Dreher-Sterling Community Fair Association. Materials will be supplied by the fair committee.

Office

The Wayne-Pike FFA Convention on Oct. 30 was announced. Walter Hinds, who is president of the local chapter, is County President as well.

A report of exhibitors in the recent Wyckoff Fair was heard. Earl McLain, Sterling, took first place in fitting, second in showmanship, and fifth in judging on type of heifer. Howard Phillips exhibited a dairy calf and placed fourth on type. Hinds also exhibited.

Five boys exhibited vegetables, including Franklin Madden, Richard Deakus, Roy McLain, Ronald Olsommer, and Donald Olsommer. They reported winning two firsts, two seconds, three thirds, two fourths, and two fifth places.

Protectors Hold Shoot

PARADISE — Nearly 40 game protectors from 13 counties in Northeastern Pennsylvania held their quarterly pistol shoot Wednesday on the Merry Hill Lodge pistol-rifle range.

Elwood Huffman, area game commissioner, and Hayes Engler, of Harrisburg, assistant chief of Law Enforcement Division, also shot and qualified. The affair was under the supervision of Carl C. Stainbrook.

In commenting on the shoot, Game Protector John Spencer of Mount Pocono commented that the game protectors described the lodge's range as one of the best in Pennsylvania.

Fire Guts Ackermanville Building

BANGOR — A fire of undetermined origin gutted Speer's Meat Market slaughter house in Ackermanville early Thursday morning. The fire was discovered by Robert Abbott of East Bangor, who was on his way to work. He notified the Bangor Fire Department.

Liberty Fire Company of Bangor responded to the alarm, when called at 2:30 a.m. Firemen fought the blaze for more than two hours to bring it under control.

Size

The building was about a 30 by 50 foot cement block structure and contained a large walk in refrigerator and other equipment.

No estimate of damage was given by Carl Speer, owner, but the work of reconstruction was started yesterday. Speer estimated that about one month would be required to place the building and equipment back in operation.
